A very short session of Circuit Court was held here Monday. A few motions were made but no juries empaneled. The big crowds usual on such days were prominent by their absence. As far as known there will be no more Court here until the second Monday in January.

Leon P. Webb, who was one of the popular Pages in the Kentucky Legislature 1914-17, will ask the new Legislature to elect him Sergeant-at-Arms. Leon is one of the Mountains' brightest young men, is highly educated, and did his bit in the late world war, tho' too young to do so. He served with distinction over-seas with the A.E.F.

The foundation for the building of the Whitesburg Bakery being erected by Mullins Bros. on the old ice plant site is now being laid. The plant is to be modern in every respect and is badly needed in our town. It will be rushed to completion.

Henry Nicholas, of Elizabethtown, prominent traveling salesman, was here this week. Eagle readers will recall the fact that Henry came to our town a few years back and captured our first milliner, Miss Lucy Davis.

J.C. Hylton, Whitesburg's popular cleaner, presser and tailoring man, has only one arm. His wife, one of the nicest ladies we have yet to know, is also quite delicate as to strength. And yet in the last year or so, since coming to our town, they have made a success. Hustling and good business sense accounts for all of this. They now own their own happy little home—full of sunshine and cheer.

No citizen can choose what law he will obey and no one charged with law enforcement can choose what law he will enforce. Who attempts to place himself or his business before the law is making himself a victim of law enforcement and if its penalties fall upon him or his business he should not complain. In ages past there were rational excuses for violations of the law in ignorance, but in this day when intelligence and light has permeated every nook and corner of the land there is none. We remark as we have often before, he who violates the law has thrown a missile at that which was made for his own protection and that of his family and home.

Few of us realize the value of good health and what it means until sickness knocks at the door and knocks us down as it stalks in. It is good health which makes us laugh, smile, play, eat, sleep and work. It is sickness which drags us from our desks, from storeroom, from the farm and the mine. It depresses its victims and throws its victims and the world about out of tune. To have good health there must be moderation in all things. If you have it strive to keep it—don't waste it. When once squandered it is difficult to get back again, likely impossible. It is important just now since winter is coming. It is the season when special caution should be exercised.

Eld. W.R. Boggs, of Eolia, was over and on his way to visit at Richmond, London and other sections of the State. He will soon locate on his newly purchased farm in Rockcastle county.

We have seen no official report of the majority of Judge Childers over Judge Vanover but it is said it will approach 5,000 in the two counties.

People coming to Whitesburg on any week day are amazed at the amount of work going on and the hustling to be seen on every hand.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bentley are confined to their rooms. Mrs. Bentley has been seriously sick several days and Mr. Bentley's health is not good. Mostly colds.

Mrs. Sam Collins, of Lexington, was visiting friends here and at Blackey.

Thos. B. Talbot, who on various occasions some years ago spent much time in our town and county, will arrive soon and hold a series of meetings at the Presbyterian Church.

C.M. Hays, postmaster at Bath, was over seeing attorneys in a contest of the election of several Knott county officers. As in other counties in several instances the action of the August primary looked like a "scrap of paper."

At Neon the Mary Williams & Sons store is putting on a big slashing price sale. Begins Nov. 21 and lasts till the day before Xmas. How do we know this? Because we do their printing. We can do yours.

The figures for current expense funds including school funds will be ascertained by him and given out in a few days and same will be published. Some time before the first of the year we hope to be able to publish the figures showing the county's actual indebtedness.

The postoffice at Blackey was raised to a third-class sometime ago and an examination for a new postmaster ordered by the department. This makes four third-class postoffices in Letcher county.

Owing to the fact that the mail route from this place to Tillie has been so changed as to eliminate Colson and Polly all mail for these offices must go via Blackey. We think it a bad change but the authorities ordered different.

The Mr. Bentley who is State

Highway Livision Engineer for this section is the son of the late William Preston Bentley, formerly one of Eastern Kentucky's most eminent attorneys, well known and well remembered by many of our citizens.

Prof. Harris has acquired about 300 acres of fine timber land on the slopes of Pine Mountain above town and says he will start developments upon it at once. The whole acreage is covered with virgin forests, the soil is as rich as can be and that part of it lying on the "benches" contains acres on acres nearly level. It will produce anything and is ideal for grapes and fruits of all kinds. The water is the purest and best in the world—pure limestone.

Work on the State Highway leading into the lower end of town is progressing nicely.

The Baptist Women of Kentucky have just closed their annual meeting which was held at Mayfield this year. The sessions were quite enjoyable and great progress was reported along all lines of the work. Next session will be held at Cynthiana.

The Whitesburg Orchestra is furnishing some splendid music at the Pearl Theatre this week.

Henry Brown, Eagle reader at Gander and a hustling farmer, was here Tuesday.

Died

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Emmaline Caudill, beloved wife of our townsman, W. Riley Caudill, reached us as we were going to press last week. She had been a sufferer from typhoid and pneumonia for two weeks or more. She leaves a husband and two small children besides a large circle of friends to weep at her demise. She was a lovable woman, a lady of the highest type, an industrious and intelligent mother, loved and honored by all. She was reared in Knott county, being a Combs before her marriage and belonged to that excellent and well known family in this country. In her death the town loses a model woman, her children a loving mother and her husband a faithful companion. With these the Eagle joins a numberless host in extending sympathies.

Light Up

We note that Letcher County's Court House is dark at night. It is everybody's place of business is the daytime and is often needed for public purposes at night. The men employed in the building often need to use their offices after dark. Let the Fiscal Court get busy and light up the people's Temple of Justice.

About Diphtheria

Membranous croup and diphtheria are always one and the same disease. Every case of sore throat should be examined immediately by a physician, especially if the person afflicted with the sore throat is a child, and a swab should be taken from the throat for laboratory test. At the very first appearance of a distinct white patch about the tonsils, the parent guardian of the child should immediately consent to the use of antitoxin, irrespective of whether or not a laboratory report has been received. Diphtheria antitoxin given early in large doses is practically a sure cure and is attended with no danger.

Twelve hours of hesitation about the use of antitoxin may cost precious lives. The little ones should be given the benefit of every doubt.

To prevent diphtheria children should avoid public drinking cups and never take articles from other children and put them in their mouths. Pipes for blowing bubbles, pencils, candy and apples have been proved to be carriers of the disease.

Mrs. Dow Collins is reported very sick.

Merchant Jim Dixon is quite sick at his home.

They say there are more fine possums this year than usual.

The changes in the weather from cold to hot and medium always produce more or less sickness. It is generally colds, sore throat and tonsillitis. Some people have learned to ward off sickness when the quick changes come by careful dressing, eating, etc.

Let There Be Light

Long dark nights are coming, are here. Let There Be Light. The people of Whitesburg are paying heavy taxes. Let a part of these taxes go toward making the old town light at night. The light man now has plenty of hot juice to spare and this should not be neglected longer. City fathers get busy now.

EDITORIALS

A very eminent man once said, "Plant the tree of learning in your youth and it will shade your old age." This is a truth that is highly worthy of acceptance by all.

Some people are plunged to their heels in society—and heels down at that. Their keenest joy comes when in the society of some slang-mouthed kiddo posing as a gentleman and who leads them in a dizzy whirl at a five-cent honk-a-long down in Jungletown to the tune of livery stable blues. Real society consists of brains and goodness. If any of our readers are outside of this kind of society there is a reason.

Did you ever notice the wonderful amount of fun some persons have playing to the galleries of their own self-esteem? And did you ever notice that sensible people are always abashed when in the presence of these players? Very heavy things seldom float.

Do you know that while the sculptor is working into stone the image that is in his mind he is at the same time transforming the stone into the vision that burns in his brain? How true it is! Our destiny like the unknown granite is to be fashioned according to the thoughts and passions that impress us. We are going to turn out the beautiful in the stone, or we shall produce a work that is hideous and unshapely. Which shall it be, for you are the sculptor?

The houses, streets and other things in a town do not make the town. They are only auxiliaries. Whitesburg is only what its people are. Of course, as a secondary consideration, the town is what the people are.

For the present and until the question is further thrashed out the Eagle will stand for the elimination of party devices from the ballots. A proposition like this will come up before the new legislature. And we will further indorse a registration of all legal voters. The bill should further require the registrant to present his tax receipt for the current year before being allowed to register. There is entire, too much slipshod voting.

Business is business and men are men, loving, working, dreaming, toiling with pencil or spade or pen, roistering, planning, scheming. Yes, business is business, but he's a fool whose business has grown to smother his faith in men and the Golden Rule, his love for a friend and brother. Why, business is business, but life is life, tho' we are all in the game to win, why not rest sometimes from the heat and strife and try to be friends for a minute. Let's try to be comrades now and then, and step from this coldish hether, for business is business and men are men—and we're all good pals together.

FOREIGN ENVOYS ARE THREATENED

Statesmen Who Are in Washington From All Parts of World Are Guarded.

U. S. MARINES ON GUARD DUTY

Continental Hall Where Disarmament Conference Is Being Held Is Closely Guarded—Letters Received At State Department.

Washington, Nov. 14.—An unusually heavy guard was thrown about Continental Hall, where the first session of the disarmament conference was held as a result of the receipt of a number of threatening letters by high officials of the State Department.

Increased precautions were also taken to protect the distinguished statesmen from all parts of the world who are here for the conference. Hall Guarded by Marines. All night long United States Marines walked their post about the S. A. R. hall, where the conference is being held, and about the new navy building where the officers of the various delegations are to be held. The marines were stationed every twenty feet about the buildings and it was impossible for any person without very excellent credentials to even approach the building.

Secret Service Men Busy. At the hotels and residences where the various delegations are residing secret service men of the United States and foreign nations maintained a close guard. Every precaution has been taken to prevent any untoward incident which might disturb the conference or the conferees. Officials chose to maintain silence as to their motives in establishing the heavy guard but it was pointed out that within the past few weeks there have been several attempts upon the lives of American diplomatic agents and it is believed that fears a he held, that an effort may be made to bring these demonstrations to the armament conference.

Not "Crank Letters." While an air of secrecy has been thrown about the missives, it was learned that they are of a highly disturbing character. They are not the ordinary "crank" letters which public men and prominent officials habitually receive, but are said to show considerable education and intelligence on the part of the authors.

The purport of one letter was that the writer would attempt to "injure and thereby impress" the gathering of world statesmen here.

DIAZ IS GUEST OF BALTIMORE

FIGHTS FIRE IN AIR DROP

Parachute Jumper Puts Out Flames in Long Fall at Oakland, Cal.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 14.—Hundreds of Armistice day celebrants watched Price Miller, a parachute jumper, put out a fire in his parachute while dropping hundreds of feet. The apparatus took fire soon after Miller had leaped from the airplane several thousand feet up. He climbed up the ropes on one side and flapped the fabric together until the flames were out. The parachute righted itself about 1,000 feet from the ground and Miller landed safely, despite the hole burned in it.

MAY BAR GARMENT STRIKE

Secretary Davis and Senators in Effort to Prevent Walkout of 50,000.

New York, Nov. 14.—Hope of averting the garment strike, involving more than 50,000 workers, was revived with a meeting between Secretary Davis of the Labor department and a committee of employers, scheduled at Washington, and a display of conciliation on the part of the workers made to the United States senators striving to prevent the strike.

Why Smith Said Yes

We were visiting another banker one day when a farmer came in and said: "Mr. Smith, I am going to that public sale today and I may want to buy 30 or 40 head of cattle. May I have the money if I want the stock?" The banker asked the farmer about his supply of feed and then said "Sure, go ahead and buy the cattle if you think the price is right. We'll take care of you." As the farmer went away the banker turned to us and said: "It's a real pleasure to do business with that fellow for he always tells us all we want to know about his affairs. We know what to do for him because we always know what he is trying to do for himself." Do you give your banker a fair chance to give you the service most helpful to you?

Switchman Gives Facts to Public

Was Going Down Hill So Fast He Became Alarmed—Lost Forty Pounds in Six Weeks.

"The best proof I can give that Tanlac was the right medicine for me is the way it has relieved my suffering and is building me up," said James H. Johnson, switchman for the K. & I. Railroad living at 1725 Crap street, Louisville, Ky.

"My stomach was all out of order and my kidneys worried me day and night. Often I was so nauseated I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach. I would bloat up with sour gas and I had gnawing pain in my stomach. My kidneys bothered me continually and my sleep was restless. I fell off forty pounds in six weeks time and was going down hill so fast it alarmed me.

"Tanlac gave me the finest kind of appetite, the indigestion left me and I started picking up in weight. I have already gained back 15 lbs. and am still gaining right along. My kidneys don't bother me any more and I sleep like a top. I am feeling fine and the way Tanlac has built me up is remarkable."

The Red Cross is spending Ten Million Dollars a Year to help the ex-service man and his family —

Annual Roll Call Nov. 11-24, 1921

To bring before the country in visual form the vast problem it is helping to solve, the American Red Cross has prepared for its Annual Roll Call, Nov. 11 to 24, a poster showing how rather than diminishing the total of World War veterans entitled to Federal aid continues to grow. Red Cross Service to these men is costing $10,000,000 a year.

President Harding Now Heads Red Cross

Red Cross Trains 147 Blind Vets In Useful Work

Training designed to fit them for the battle of life was taken by 147 blind ex-service men at the Red Cross Institute for the Blind, near Baltimore, Md., during the fiscal year 1920-1921, according to the report of the Institute for that period.

Of this number, 19 have gone on to other institutions, in almost every case to institutions where those having sight are receiving advanced education. The blind ex-service men who have entered such institutions are provided with special text-books in Braille, reading which they were taught at the Red Cross Institute.

Twelve men have passed from the Institute to successfully carry on some occupation or business for which they were fitted by special training. A few have withdrawn from the Institute because of poor physical condition, 14 are receiving further "training on the job" and 87 are still in training.

Red Cross Plans $6,000,000 Effort To Save Children

Medical care and clothing for thousands of children in Central and Eastern Europe are outlined as the activities of the American Red Cross in Europe for the current year, says a statement on the eve of the Annual Roll Call of the organization. These activities, supplemental to the feeding operations of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, are designed to provide the most adequate and balanced relief within the resources of private philanthropy.

Through the establishment of child welfare stations in the centers of population of those countries where adequate medical care is not now obtainable, the American Red Cross plans to provide the medical assistance needed to restore these children to a normally healthy life. The sum of $6,000,000 has been made available for this work.

Your dealer sells each bottle of pleasant, harmless "Dodson's Liver Tonic" under an ironclad, money-back guarantee that it regulates the liver, stomach and bowels better than calomel without making you sick—15 million bottles sold.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the American Red Cross. The Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the appropriation of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau.

The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for apportionment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

Young America Sends Vast Relief To Needy Abroad

Various relief projects of the Junior American Red Cross in European countries resulted in helping 237,000 destitute children during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross for that period. The growth of the activities of the Juniors abroad is manifested by a comparison which shows this figure is 200,000 larger than that of the previous fiscal year.

The National Children's Fund raised by school children, members of the Junior American Red Cross, was drawn upon for $420,557 for these projects. Receipts for the National Children's Fund during the last fiscal year totaled $155,317.

$10,000,000 AID FOR VETERANS

Red Cross Provides Friendly Service of Many Kinds to Army of Disabled.

BULK OF WORK BY CHAPTERS

2,397 of These Are Helping Ex-Service Men Obtain Benefits U. S. Provides.

One field of Red Cross service alone, that of assisting disabled veterans of the World War, entails expenditures $4,000,000 greater than the aggregate receipts of the Annual Roll Call of 1920, the American Red Cross announces in a statement urging a widespread increase in membership at the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24. At the present time National Headquarters and the nationwide chain of Chapters of the Red Cross is spending approximately $10,000,000 annually for the relief of disabled ex-service men and their families, while the aggregate receipts from last year's Roll Call were approximately $6,000,000.

It is in the 2,397 of the 3,000 Red Cross Chapters which still are helping solve the veteran's problem of adjusting himself to a normal civilian status that the greater part of the cost of this service is borne. Of the total sum spent for veterans' relief last year, National Headquarters expended a total of more than $2,600,000, while the remaining disbursement of approximately $7,400,000 represents the contribution of Chapters in this country-wide effort to assist the Government in providing the aid sorely needed by these men and their families.

An Ever Expanding Problem
That the problem of the disabled service man is ever-expanding and probably will not reach the peak before 1925, is the assertion of well-informed Government officials and that 2,397 Red Cross Chapters regard it as their most important work is evidence confined to a particular section but is, on the contrary, nation-wide. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1921, there were 26,300 disabled service men in the 1,002 United States Public Health Service, Contract and Government Hospitals and Soldiers Homes, and that number is increasing at a rate of 1,000 a month.

Thousands of these men receiving medical treatment, compensation and vocational training from the Government today, started their efforts to obtain them through the Red Cross Chapter. The chapter, acting as the disabled man's agent in claims against the Government, informs the man as to the procedure necessary to gain for him that which is provided him by Federal statute. His applications for compensation, medical treatment and training are properly filed with the aid of the Red Cross Chapter.

Many Forms of Assistance
If there is delay before the man's claim is acted upon, the Red Cross Chapter lends the man money to meet the imperative needs of himself and his dependents.

Most vital to the man's gaining full benefit from the Government's care is keeping his mind free from worry about his home. Keeping the veteran's family from hardship of every kind and informing him of its welfare is another province of the Chapter. Free from fear on this score, the man's recovery and advancement usually is rapid.

Every month during the last year, the American Red Cross has given service of one kind or another to an average of 129,215 former service men and their families. An indication of the extent of the faith reposed in the Red Cross Chapter is to be found in the fact that there were 356,514 requests for friendly aid in the solution of personal problems.

440 Workers in Hospitals

While the man prior to entering Government care deals largely with the Chapter, afterward he comes into contact with the service provided by National Headquarters. There are 418 Red Cross workers in the United States Public Health Service and contract hospitals and other institutions in which these men are being cared for, whose duty it is to provide for his recreation, help him with his compensation claims, keep him in touch with his family; in short, meeting his every need outside of that provided by the Government. While these are a few of the responsibilities of the National Organization, they are by no means all. Among other Red Cross accomplishments for the year are:

It handled 70,732 allotment and allowance claims.

It delivered through its Chapter organization 63,635 allotment checks to veterans who had moved from the addresses furnished to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

It provided a special fund of $10,000 for medical assistance to men under vocational training.

It made 22,195 loans totaling $450,000 to men taking vocational training, of which 85 per cent has been repaid.

HARDING OPENS ARMS MEETING AT WASHINGTON

World's Diplomats Hear President's Plea for Limitation of Armaments.

U. S. WANTS LESS ARMAMENT

"Our Hundred Millions Frankly Want Less of Armament and None of War" —Declares "We Harbor No Unworthy Designs and Accredited the World With the Same Good Intent."

Washington, Nov. 14. — Secretary Hughes, in his opening address as chairman of the armament conference, presented American plans for naval limitation. The chief feature is a naval holiday. It is proposed that all capital shipbuilding programs be abandoned. A second point is that further reduction should be made through the scrapping of older ships. A third point, that further consideration should be given existing armament. Fourth, that capital ships now building be curtailed. The United States would abandon work on sixteen capital ships and scrap fifteen old battle craft. Great Britain would stop construction on four new ships of the Hood class and would scrap all first and second line battle ships after the King George V type. As a replacement program the United States proposes that no more capital ships be laid down for the next ten years, and placing the maximum replacement tonnage at 500,000 tons for United States, 500,000 tons for Great Britain and 200,000 tons for Japan.

Washington, Nov. 14. —America took leadership Saturday in the first movement in history for the elimination of international menaces that threaten civilization with future war.

Reduced to simple terms, the United States seeks:

First—To prevent competition among the great powers in the construction of war machinery—naval, land and air.

Second—To remove sources of international friction in the Pacific ocean zone that may lead to future conflict.

Recognizing the general belief that the Far East is the new danger spot, America has sought the co-operation of eight other powers with vital interests in the Orient to avert the danger of a "next world war."

This is generally regarded as the greatest humanitarian crusade in the history of mankind. But it is also a practical scheme for material relief from the overwhelming burden of taxation and debt.

Meeting Is Unique in History.

The veteran diplomats of Europe who have participated in every important international parley for the past half century characterized this meeting as unique in world history—a meeting called in advance of war, designed to prevent war, and a voluntary coming together of the great nations to limit the size of each other's armies and navies.

Text of Harding's Address.

President Harding delivered the following address at the opening of the armament conference here:

Mr. Secretary and Members of the Conference, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is a great and happy privilege to bid the delegates to this conference a cordial welcome to the capital of the United States of America. It is not only a satisfaction to greet you because we were lately participants in a common cause, in which shared sacrifices and sorrows and triumphs brought our nations more closely together, but it is gratifying to address you as the spokesman for nations whose convictions and attending actions have much to do with the weal or woe of all mankind.

Will Influence Human Progress.

It is not possible to over appraise the importance of such a conference. It is no unseemly boast, no disparagement of other nations which, though not represented, are held in highest respect, to declare that the conclusions of this body will have a signal influence on all human progress—on the fortunes of the world.

Here is a meeting, I can well believe, which is an earnest of the awakened conscience of twentieth-century civilization. It is not a convention of remorse, nor a session of sorrow. It is not the conference of victors to define terms of settlement. Nor is it a council of nations seeking to remake mankind. It is rather a coming together, from all parts of the earth, to apply the better attributes of mankind to minimize the faults in our international relationships.

Call of War-Wearied World.

Speaking as official sponsor for the invitation, I think I may say the call is not of the United States of America alone, it is rather the spoken word of a war-weary world, struggling for restoration, hungering and thirsting for better relationship; of humanity crying for relief and craving assurance of lasting peace.

It is easy to understand this world-wide aspiration. The glory of triumph, the rejoicing in achievement, the love of liberty, the devotion of country, the pangs of sorrow, the burdens of debts, the desolation of ruin—all these are appraised alike in all lands. Here in the United States we are but freshly turned from the burial of an unknown American soldier, when a nation sorrowed while paying him tribute. Whether it was spoken or not, a hundred millions of our people were summarizing the inexcusable causes, the incalculable cost, the unspeakable sacrifices and the unutterable sorrows, and there was the ever-impelling question: How can humanity justify or God forgive? Human hate demands no such toll: ambition and greed must be denied it. If misunderstanding must take the blame, then let us banish it, and let understanding rule and make good will regnant everywhere.

All Demand Liberty and Justice.

All of us demand liberty and justice. There cannot be one without the other, and they must be held the unquestioned possession of all peoples. Inherent rights are of God and the tragedies of the world originate in their attempted denial. The world today is infringing their enjoyment by arming to defend or deny, when simple sanity calls for their recognition through common understanding.

Out of the cataclysm of the World War came new fellowships, new convictions, new aspirations. It is ours to make the most of them. A world staggering with debt needs its burden lifted. Humanity, which has been shocked by wanton destruction, would minimize the agencies of that destruction. Contemplating the measureless cost of war and the continuing burden of armament, all thoughtful peoples wish for real limitation of armament and would like war outlawed. In soberest reflection the world's hundreds of millions who pay in peace and die in war wish their statesmen to turn the expenditures for destruction into means of construction, aimed at a higher state for those who live and follow after.

War Growing More Cruel.

It is not alone that the world cannot readjust itself and cast aside the excess burdens without relief from the leaders of men. War has grown progressively cruel and more destructive from the first recorded conflict to this pregnant day, and the reverse order would more become our boasted civilization.

Gentlemen of the conference, the United States welcomes you with unselfish hands. We harbor no fears; we have no so-called ends to serve; we suspect no enemy; we contemplate or apprehend no conquest. Content with what we have, we seek nothing which is another's. We only wish to do with you that finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone.

We Wish to Sit with you at the table of International Understanding and Good Will.

In good conscience, we are eager to meet you frankly, and invite and offer co-operation. The world demands a sober contemplation of the existing order and the realization that there can be no cure without sacrifice, not by one of us, but by all of us.

No Pride Need Be Humbled.

I do not mean surrendered rights, or narrowed freedom, or unbecoming aspirations, or ignored national necessities. Our republic would no more ask for these than it would give. No pride need be humbled, no nationality submerged, but I would have a merging of minds committing all of us to less preparation for war and more enjoyment of fortunate peace.

The higher hopes come of the spirit of our coming together. It is but just to recognize varying needs and peculiar positions. Nothing can be accomplished in disregard of national apprehensions. Rather we should act together to remove the causes of apprehensions. This is not to be done in intrigue. Greater assurance is found in the exchange of simple honesty and directness, among men resolved to accomplish as becomes leaders among nations, when civilization itself has come to its crucial test.

All Want Less Armament.

It is not to be challenged that government falls when the excess of its cost robs the people of the way to happiness and the opportunity to achieve. If the finer sentiments were not urging, the cold, hard facts of excessive costs and the eloquence of economies would urge us to reduce our armaments. If the concept of a better order does not appeal, then let us ponder the burden and the blight of continued competition.

It is not to be denied that the world has swung along throughout the ages without heeding this call from the kindlier hearts of men. But the same world never before was so tragically brought to realization of the utter futility of passion's sway when reason and conscience and fellowship point a nobler way.

I can speak officially only for the United States. One hundred millions frankly want less of armament and none of war. Wholly free from guile, sure in our own minds that we harbor no unworthy designs, we accredit the world with the same good intent. So I welcome you, not alone in good will and high purpose, but with high faith.

Service to All Mankind.

We are met for a service to mankind. In all simplicity, in all honesty and all honor, there may be written here the avowals of a world conscience refined by the consuming fires of war, and made more sensitive by the anxious aftermath. I hope for that understanding which will emphasize the guarantees of peace, and for commitments to less burdens and a better order which will tranquilize the world.

In such an accomplishment there will be added glory to your flags and ours, and the rejoicing of mankind will make the transcending music of all succeeding time.
